

KOMODO

One of our all-time favourites in the most famous national park in Indonesia, a world heritage site and one of the new 7 wonders of the world

Probably the most known creature of this area is the world's largest lizard, the Komodo dragon but for divers it offers even more; the current rich waters will lead to spectacular dives with large amounts of fish, sharks and mantas which will make your heartbeat faster.

Our trip starts in Labuan Bajo and ends in Labuan Bajo and we make sure that you will have plenty of time within the park to see and dive all the highlights.

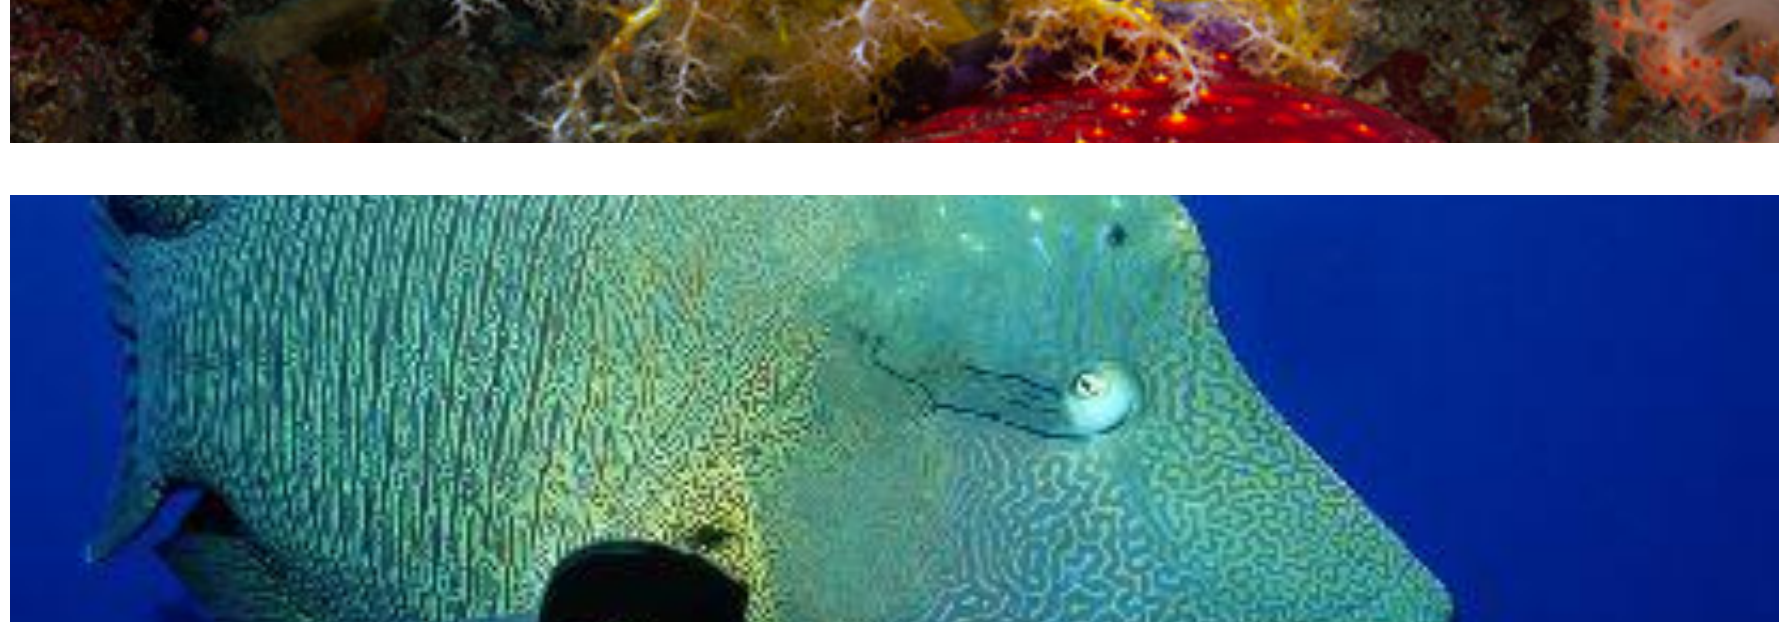

We will visit all top sites like castle rock, Batubolong, Manta Alley and unless the weather does not permit us, we will always go down south in the less crowded part of Rinca in the horseshoe bay, here the diving is different to the central and northern part with Cannibal Rock and Larry's Yellow Wall of Texas being a treat even for the most sophisticated divers; plus, the dragons can be observed in the wild.

Looking a bit like out of a Jurassic Park movie the landscapes are breath-taking, and we will make sure you can enjoy these on several land excursions such as viewpoints and a visit to the park to see the dragons and learn more about them from the local rangers.

Water temperatures: generally, around 27C but down south it can get much colder with a minimum of 19C – make sure to bring a warm wetsuit or borrow an extra layer from us.

Current: mild to strong

Also suitable for experienced Snorkellers, Free divers, Kayaking and leisure trips.
