BUGIS

Across the Flores Sea: Wakatobi, Taka Bonerate and Komodo aboard Bugis

Kendari to Labuan Bajo | Wakatobi, Taka Bonerate and Komodo

A voyage across the untouched Flores Sea, through quiet villages, aquamarine lagoons and the remote atolls at the heart of the Coral Triangle.

The Bajo sea gypsies now live in villages built entirely on stilts above the sea, and meeting them is a highlight.

Batuata has high cliffs towering over a heavenly beach lined with coconut trees.

Taka Bonerate, the world's third biggest atoll, brings snorkelling and remote beach barbecues, most of its islands empty.

Komodo finishes the journey with the famous Komodo dragons, and a superb reef where manta rays and turtles can often be spotted.
