

JELAJAHI LAUT

Best of Raja Ampat and Misool

Sorong to Sorong | Misool, the Fam Islands and the Dampier Strait

The Misool Eco Reserve has some of the most colourful corals on the planet, with dives planned so each site is yours alone.

Oceanic and reef mantas, blacktip, whitetip and grey reef sharks, wobbegong, hunting giant trevally and eagle rays all turn up, along with up to five types of pygmy seahorse.

Northern Misool is a labyrinth of small islands with walls and slopes, and mobula rays hunting sardines.

In the Fam Islands there are fields of staghorn coral and a night dive where you may find the walking shark.

A dawn jungle hike may even bring the red bird of paradise.

Your route

STOP 1

Day 1: Sorong to Misool

Meet at the Marina Star Café in Sorong harbour at 7:30 am and board Jelajahi Laut by speedboat.
After a welcome briefing, a safety briefing and introductions over a fresh juice or coconut, the boat sets off towards Waisai, with a check dive at around 3 pm on the slopes of Mioskon Island. The captain then navigates to Misool in the south of the marine park.

STOP 2

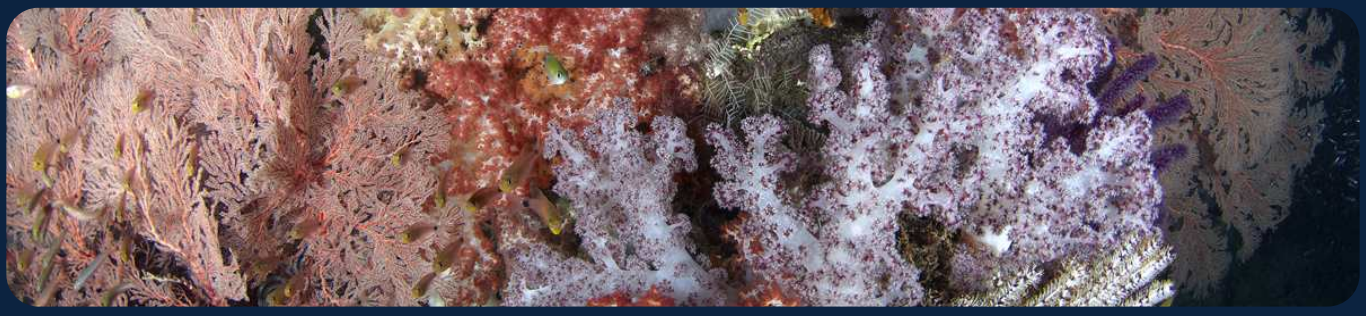

Day 2: Northern Misool

An early start and a day around the northern islands of Misool, where the dive sites lie in a labyrinth of small islands, with walls and slopes, pygmy seahorses and mobula rays hunting sardines.
In the afternoon the boat moves south into the Misool Eco Reserve and anchors between the islands of Romeo and Yillet.

STOP 3

Days 3 to 7: Misool Eco Reserve

The dives are planned around the schedules of other boats, to protect the reefs and so you can have each site to yourselves.
The reserve has some of the most colourful corals on the planet.
Boo Window, Magic Mountain, Nudi Rock, Four Kings, Puri Pinnacle and Tank Rock are a few of the sites.
You can encounter oceanic and reef mantas, blacktip, whitetip and grey reef sharks, wobbegong, hunting giant trevally, tuna and eagle rays, and up to five types of pygmy seahorse.
On the way back north there may be underwater caverns and, depending on the season, a lake of stingless jellyfish.

STOP 4

Day 8: The Fam Islands

After a 13 hour crossing, the boat is among the Fam Islands, with fields of staghorn coral at Melissa's Garden, hunting grey reef sharks at My Reef, and the pinnacle of Batu Rufus with fusiliers, rainbow runners and barracuda.
In the afternoon there is a climb to the Piaynemo viewpoint over the lagoon, where baby blacktips sometimes cruise, and a night dive where you may find the walking shark.

STOP 5

Day 9: The Dampier Strait

Action-packed dives at Cape Kri, Sardine Reef and Mike's Point, then a short hop by speedboat to Mioskon for a beach barbecue set up by the chef.

STOP 6

Day 10: Last dive and Sorong

A 4:30 am wake up for a short hike in the jungle, where with luck you may see the red bird of paradise.
Then a last dive, either Blue Magic for more oceanic mantas and grey reef sharks, or the reef of LauLau with its pinnacle.
After washing the gear and lunch, the boat returns to Sorong.
