

SPIRIT OF THE MALDIVES

The Deep South Kooddoo to Gan

Kooddoo to Gan | Huvadhoo, Fuvahmulah and Addu

Fuvahmulah is the highlight of the far south, where the sea floor rises 2,000 metres to meet the reef and hammerheads, threshers, silvertips, grey reef sharks and tiger sharks come by.

Before it, Huvadhoo has deep, current-swept channels, sharks, rays and huge schools of pelagic fish, with whale sharks that may come to the lights at night.

Addu Atoll finishes with drift dives in the eastern channels, a thriving wreck reef and a manta cleaning station to the north.

Crossing the Equator along the way, you join the tradition of paying homage to Neptune.
