

SEAHORSE

Raja Ampat, Halmahera and Lembeh

Sorong to Bitung | Misool, Halmahera and the Lembeh Strait

The muck diving paradise of the Lembeh Strait comes after Misool and Halmahera in this trip.

In Lembeh the strangest critters live on the sandy slopes, hairy frogfish, mimic octopus, Rhinopias, ghost pipefish and many nudibranchs.

Misool has wide angle shots, mantas and massive schools of fish, and Halmahera has seamounts covered in soft coral, patrolling blacktip sharks and the walking shark on night dives.

At the remote island of Tifore, schools of barracuda compete with schools of jacks above wonderful coral reefs.

On the last afternoon, macaques and tarsiers live in the forest of Tangkoko National Park.

Your route

STOP 1

Misool

After a night of sailing the boat reaches Misool, where you spend the first four days at Daram, Fiabacet, Wayil and the Boo area.

STOP 2

Pulau Pisang

Pulau Pisang in the Maluku Sea has dive sites with a mix of ridges, slopes, small walls and plateau, with plenty of fish and colourful coral reefs.

STOP 3

Patienti Strait and Goraichi

The islands of Saleh and Kusu, with some smaller ones, partly close the Patienti Strait between Halmahera and Bacan, forcing water through with currents that bring a lot of life.
Sea mounts and rocky islets around the Goraichi islands form the dive sites and attract great marine life.

STOP 4

Tifore

After a night of sailing you reach the remote island of Tifore between Halmahera and Sulawesi, with a dive site where schools of barracuda compete with schools of jacks above wonderful coral reefs.

STOP 5

Lembeh Strait

After the final night of sailing you arrive in the Lembeh Strait for the last dives.
On the last afternoon you can visit Tangkoko National Park, a preserved forest with macaques and tarsiers.

STOP 6

Misool on land

At the rangers' station you snorkel in front of their beach in a natural shark nursery, where small black tips swim in one metre of clear water.
A short hike leads to the viewpoint over the "love lagoon", a lagoon in the shape of a heart.

GOOD TO KNOW

About the diving

Misool

The first four days are in Misool, with its wide angle shots, mantas and massive schools of fish.

Halmahera

Many Halmahera dive sites are seamounts with a rocky base and plenty of soft coral covered bommies. Blacktip sharks patrol most sites, the walking shark can be seen on night dives, and tuna, Spanish mackerel and giant trevally are part of the show. Napoleon wrasse, bumphead parrotfish, groupers and schools of surgeonfish and spadefish are well represented, along with critter dives and fringing reefs.

Lembeh Strait

Known as the muck diving paradise, the Lembeh Strait is a search for the strangest critters on the sandy slopes, such as hairy frogfish, mimic octopus, Rhinopias, ghost pipefish and many nudibranchs.

Dive count

A minimum of 36 dives, which is 3 dives per day, is offered, including at least 5 night dives.

How the diving works

Divers go in groups of up to four with a dive guide, with a briefing before every dive. Nitrox is free for certified divers, and divers are asked to stay within no deco limits, to a maximum depth of 35 metres.

Joining the boat
